

What do you know about your limitations of knowledge?
How does that make you feel, especially when someone else points that out to you? How do you feel when you don't understand what's happening? These questions might be striking a nerve in you. Many who are supposed to know are struggling. What do we do about: the COVID-19 crisis; social unrest; threats of anarchy; and ubiquitous political power pursuits? How can we move forward when there is so much we don't know? As followers of Christ, we move forward when we experience joy in fearing the One who knows. God alone navigates time and eternity perfectly.

What do you know about God?

What do you say to the "one" who knows what's going on?

Be in awe of the One who knows:

- What are you going to do with what He knows?

How do you react to the fact that He knows everything?

- What's your next step in the joy of fearing the One who knows?

The Fear of the Lord

Who Knows What?
